DETAILED ACTIONInformation Disclosure Statement

The information disclosure statement filed 12/29/03 fails to comply with the provisions of 37 CFR 1.97, 1.98 and MPEP § 609 because it includes an incorrect application serial number. The application serial number is incorrectly listed as 09/365,584. The information disclosure statement has been placed in the application file, but the information referred to therein has not been considered as to the merits. Applicant is advised that the date of any re-submission of any item of information contained in this information disclosure statement or the submission of any missing element(s) will be the date of submission for purposes of determining compliance with the requirements based on the time of filing the statement, including all certification requirements for statements under 37 CFR 1.97(e). See MPEP § 609.05(a).

Double Patenting

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Art Unit: 2116

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 128-130, 134-138, 142, 143-147, 151-153 and 157 are rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1 and 4 of U.S. Patent No. 6,473,608 in view of Marshall et al., US Patent no. 5,691,940 [Marshall]. Claims 1 and 4 of U.S. Patent No. 6,473,608 disclose every limitation of claims 128-130, and 134 except programmable current circuitry and utilizing the voltage measuring means at a plurality of predetermined intervals. Claims 1 and 4 of U.S. Patent No. 6,473,608 disclose current limiting circuitry, but do not disclose that the current limiting circuitry is programmable. Marshall discloses programmable current limiting circuitry [column 1, lines 44-55]. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to use programmable current limiting circuitry in order to enable the current limiting circuitry to support a variety of devices or uses that may require different current limits without having to replace the current limiting circuitry for each separate use. Claims 1, 4 and 11 of U.S. Patent No. 6,473,608 disclose utilizing the voltage measuring means, but do not disclose utilizing the voltage measuring means at a plurality of predetermined intervals. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to perform multiple voltage measurements. Performing voltage measurements or detections at a plurality of intervals as opposed to a single instance prevents the system from erroneously supplying or not supplying power to a device if the device has changed functions or if a new device has been coupled to the system.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 131-133, 139-141, 148-150, 154-156 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
